1.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE ADMISSIONS COMPONENT:

1. Provide adequate information from the initial contact with the college. Personnel who have initial contact with students are well trained and informed on all college services. (Component Standard #1)

2. Provide written admissions materials, which are easy to understand and complete. This includes but is not limited to, the schedule of classes, college catalog, application forms, and matriculation explanations and questionnaires. (Component Standard #1)

3. Provide additional staffing during registration in order to minimize the time needed to complete the process of admission and registration. (Component Standard #1)

4. Provide local support for statistical reports required by the matriculation plan. Personnel responsible for other matriculation components often request information available only from the Admissions Office. (Component Standard #1)

5. Provide special written instructions and registration material for outreach classes (courses offered off-campus as a service to the community). (Component Standard #1)

6. Provide staff that can assist students in completing the college application or other adjunct documents necessary for admission. Since Los Angeles Harbor College is located in the city of Wilmington, a predominantly Hispanic neighborhood, Spanish/English bilingual admissions and registration clerks are available at the admissions and registration area to assist Hispanic minority students. Hispanic bilingual students are encouraged to see bilingual counselors and attend ESL orientation/assessment sessions. Additionally, admissions information is available in both Spanish and English on telephone recording. Staff members who speak other ethnic languages are available to assist language minority students when it is deemed necessary. (Component Standard #1, 2)

7. Provide online registration for continuing students in order to minimize the physical traffic through the Admissions area. This maximizes the available staff time for new students who need more services at this critical time. Ninety-five percent of continuing students and eighty percent of new students utilize internet registration to enroll in classes. (Component Standard #1, 3)

8. Enter the application information into the computer system quickly and accurately. The efficiency is critical, because students’ assessment information must match with the system. The online application via CCC Apply System is operational. (Component Standard #1, 3)

9. Document imaging system is operational. This will improve the ease of retrieved of documents. (Component Standard #1, 3)
1.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE ADMISSIONS COMPONENT:

10. Enter additional updated matriculation data into the computer system throughout the year. This includes, but is not limited to, changes in the student’s compliance with matriculation components fulfilled at later dates. (Component Standard #1, 3)

11. Provide an effective method to identify and assist students with special needs. Based on telephone or walk-in conversations with students and students’ answers on admissions application forms, the admissions and registration clerks identify the students needing special services such as Extended Opportunity Programs and Services and Special Programs and Services. These students are referred to the EOPS Office, DSPS Office and other appropriate offices. Students with disabilities are given special assistance in the preparation and submission of Admissions application forms and all registration material. This assistance is provided by the registration clerks in some instances and/or by specially trained staff within the DSPS Office (These special services are provided in accordance with basic Admissions Office policies). Disabled students are exempt from certain aspects of the regular registration timetable. (Component Standard #2)

12. Computerized information services, such as the state MIS reports, district reports and local reports, will be evaluated for their use to implement admissions services. (Component Standard #3)

13. Title V funds were approved to purchase the CustomFAQs software to be able to build a database of the most frequently asked questions to help alleviate the volume of phone calls incoming to the Admissions & Records Office. Students will be able to access the database and find the most common questions and answers about Admissions & Records. (Component Standard #3).
1.2 GOALS FOR THE ADMISSIONS COMPONENT:

A. Admission will be a smooth, speedy, and efficient vehicle for students entering the institution. Adequate staffing and equipment are critical to this goal. Timeframe: Ongoing. Persons responsible: Dean and Staff of Admissions & Records.

B. Students will be well informed and properly directed from their initial contact with the college. Materials describing the admission process are widely available on paper as well as on the College website. The Admissions and Records homepage is easy to navigate. Students are now accustomed to finding college information online. Timeframe: Ongoing. Persons responsible: Dean and Staff of Admissions & Records.

C. The matriculation concept will be made clear to all students by linking the Admissions & Records and the Matriculation Services homepages. Efforts to coordinate counseling services with admissions will help facilitate answers to students’ questions. Timeframe: Ongoing. Persons responsible: Dean and Staff of Admissions & Records.

D. Materials, which explain the criteria for exemptions to matriculation, will be made available early in the admissions process. Timeframe: Ongoing. Persons responsible: Dean and Staff of Admissions & Records.

E. The admissions process will make reasonable accommodations for students with special needs such as disability or language barriers. The accommodations are coordinated with the Office of Student Special Services. Timeframe: Ongoing. Persons responsible: Dean and Staff of Admissions & Records.

F. The funding provided by the Title V grant allowed the Student Services division to purchase the CustomFAQ software and to build the FAQs database. This new software will enable students to get answers to their most frequent questions in a more efficient manner. If the question is not found in the database, the system will automatically collect the questions. The questions collected will later be used to improve and increase the database.

G. It is expected that once students learn how to use the system, the Admissions and Records staff will be able to spend less time answering common questions on the phone and therefore have more time to serve students at the window and to expedite paperwork.

2.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE ORIENTATION COMPONENT:

1. Regularly scheduled orientation sessions are conducted for all non-exempt students throughout the academic year and summer. An online Orientation is shown to students. Students may view the presentation themselves via the internet. Each method highlights the college programs and services available to students; academic expectations; students’ rights and responsibilities; financial assistance; course scheduling; and institutional procedures, the facilities and grounds, student activities, credit card information, standards of student conduct, etc. Each student receives information, which includes a College Catalog, Schedule of Classes (when available), a time management/schedule planning form, CSU & IGETC patterns, a copy of each of the three graduation patterns and a Student Handbook/Planner. The campus is moving to a paperless environment, and students are shown how to access info online. (Component Standard #1)

Our monthly Nursing Group Advising sessions began as orientation breakout sessions and have become the major way in which Nursing advising takes place.

2. When the student submits a Los Angeles Harbor College application for admission, and the student is determined to be a matriculating student, he/she is referred online or to the SARS computers at the Appointment Center to schedule a date and time for new student orientation. Orientations and assessments are paired together. (Component Standard #1, 2, 5)

3. Computerized information services, such as the state MIS reports, district and local reports will be evaluated for their use to implement orientation activities. Matriculation services are described through the campus website, in the schedule of classes, and in the online orientation. (Component Standard #1, 2, 10)

4. By referral to the written statements in the catalog, students are informed of their right to challenge (on specified grounds) a pre- or corequisite or limitation on enrollment; their responsibility for showing that grounds exist for the challenge; and their right to file a complaint of unlawful discrimination. The catalog also informs students of their rights and responsibilities. The catalog informs students of the procedure for filing a complaint alleging unlawful discrimination in the implementation of matriculation practices. The schedule of classes lists the course Prerequisite Policy and the Prerequisite Challenge Procedures. (Component Standard #2, 3, 4)

5. District procedures for challenging Matriculation regulatory provisions, investigation and resolution of complaints are available in writing in the Student Services Office. (Component Standard #5)

6. Non-exempt matriculating students for whom English is a second language (ESL) are informed of the ESL and the English as a native language (ENL) assessments and orientation sessions. Students may self-select the assessment and orientation session in which they feel comfortable. Orientations are online.
2.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE ORIENTATION COMPONENT:

Counselors occasionally lead orientation sessions. Our Counseling Staff is multi-ethnic/multicultural, and two counselors are bilingual. Counselors have attended and are encouraged to attend conferences and workshops dealing with cross-cultural/multicultural issues. (Component Standard #6)

7. Students with disabilities are provided with the opportunity to be assessed and oriented through the Special Programs and Services (DSPS) Office. A special orientation is available in which students receive an overview (through discussion and video presentation) of all college programs and services (with heavy emphasis placed on DSPS services and programs), academic expectations, student rights and responsibilities, and college procedures. Disabled students are encouraged to participate in the mainstreamed orientation environment when possible (Component Standard #6)

8. Harbor College’s orientation exemption criteria are:

- Student is taking P.E., recreational or personal growth classes only and has no intention of pursuing a certificate or degree.
- Student is taking one or two classes (not English or math) to renew a license and has no intention of pursuing a certificate or degree.
- Student is concurrently enrolled at another institution and is taking one or two classes to transfer back to their home institution.

The clerks in the Admissions Office indicate on each student’s application, whether or not the student is a matriculating student based on his/her response to questions # 21, 23, 25, and 26, on the LAHC application. A student who has completed assessment and orientation at another college may submit results to a counselor. The counselor fills out a Prerequisite Approval Form and/or inputs corresponding placement levels onto the S091 screen in DEC. This component can be waived for students who have completed an associate or higher degree. (Component Standard #6, 7, 9)

9. Exempt students are informed of their right to choose whether or not to participate in this component by the Admissions Staff. (Component Standard #8)
2.2 GOALS FOR THE ORIENTATION COMPONENT:

A. Students who have attended orientation will express a greater level of satisfaction and knowledge of college programs and services than students who have not been oriented. Timeframe: Ongoing. Person responsible: Counselors, Counseling Chair, Researcher, Assessment Staff.

B. Students will move smoothly and efficiently through the registration process as a result of orientation. Timeframe: Ongoing. Person responsible: Counselors, Assessment Staff.

C. Students who have attended orientation will have a greater knowledge of the college’s programs, services, expectations, procedures, graduation and transfer requirements, and greater persistence towards graduation or certificate completion than students who have not participated in orientation. Timeframe: Ongoing. Person responsible: Counselors, Researcher, Assessment Center Staff.

3.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE ASSESSMENT COMPONENT:

1. All non-exempt students at Harbor College are offered English, ESL, and math placement (which includes language skills, mathematical computations, and multiple measures) using valid instruments approved by the State Chancellor’s Office. Total time for testing is about 2 hours. Assessments are offered both by appointment and on a walk-in basis Monday through Friday. During assessment, students are given information packets that explain registration procedures and services available. The Orientation Component is provided subsequent to the assessment session, online, by a counselor or through a PowerPoint Presentation, which is followed by a 10-question quiz. Students who need individual attention are directed to see a counselor before registration and further planning. Students are also directed to Personal Development classes to assist the student with goal setting and college skills. (Component Standard #1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 9, 13)

2. During the orientation portion of the assessment session, students are informed of the campus services, procedures, rights and responsibilities, etc. Counselors are available on a drop in basis Monday thru Friday after the orientation to assist students in their educational and career planning. (Component Standard #3, 13)

3. In an effort to evaluate students’ learning and study skills. Personal Development classes are offered on campus, at outreach locations and online. Course curriculum covers time management, study skills, learning styles, career and educational planning, memory techniques, note taking, stress management, how to take tests, etc. (Component Standard #4)

4. All assessment instruments are approved by the state chancellor. (Component Standard #5)

5. The testing tool currently used is: ACT Compass/ESL, which utilizes multiple measures to place students into English, English as a second language and math courses. ACT Compass/ESL is used for ENL Ability to Benefit and ESL-Ability to Benefit. The instruments are used only for the purposes for which they were developed and validated and are monitored by the Student Services Assistant. (Component Standard #1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 9, 13)

6. Self-reported information collected on the ACT Compass/ESL test provides the high school grade point average and is used as a multiple measure. Students are given placement advice based on their assessment scores using multiple measures. The validated cut scores are used for placement into English, ESL and math classes. Students are referred to services and subsequent evaluations based on their responses to the ACT self reported demographic information.
3.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE ASSESSMENT COMPONENT:

Correlations and appropriate analyses are conducted periodically to ensure that multiple measures other than two or more highly correlated instruments are used for placement. (Component Standard #7, 8)

7. Students with disabilities needing modified or alternative assessment services may contact Special Programs and Services (DSPS) before or during the application process. These students are then assisted throughout the entire Assessment/Placement process through DSPS and/or the Assessment Center. DSPS counselors, a learning disability specialist, and readers are available to address oral presentation of material through the use of readers, untimed testing, use of special equipment, and distraction free environment.

A special campus orientation is also available for these students. If a student with a disability does not want to participate in DSPS service offerings, they may receive modified assessment services through contact with college student assistants, Classified Staff and/or Certificated Staff. (Component Standard #9)

8. We encourage incoming non-exempt students to take the Assessment/Placement tests. Students who have specific English and math classes identified by college transcript and students who have completed comparable assessments at college level are not required to take Harbor College’s assessment tests.

The Board of Trustees has adopted the policy that students may be exempted from the Assessment/Placement component and that any exemption may not be based on a sole criterion—and that each college in the District may establish their own exemption criteria. (The only “sole criterion” allowable is a completion of an AA/AS or higher degree).

Harbor College has adopted the following District exemption criteria for assessment:

- Student is taking P.E., recreational or personal growth classes only and has no intention of pursuing a certificate or degree.

- Student is taking one or two classes (not English or math) to renew a license and has no intention of pursuing a certificate or degree.

- Student is concurrently enrolled at another institution and is taking one or two classes to transfer back to their home institution.

If a student is exempt from this component, the counselor or Admission personnel enter the information in the district computer system to indicate exemption. If a student has transcripts, report card, or test scores from other colleges or universities, the counselor assesses the student’s previous academic experience and then enters the student’s recommended course placement or signs a prerequisite approval form. (Component Standard #10)

9. Exempted students are made aware that they may choose whether or not to participate in this component by the clerks in the Admissions & Records at the time the application is submitted. Furthermore, this information is printed in the catalog and schedule of classes. (Component Standard #11)

10. Other Assessment Activities (Component Standard #12, 13):

A. The Assessment Center is open year-round for tests and group Orientation/Placement testing.

B. Walk-in testing is available year round for English, ESL and Math tests.

C. Early testing opportunities are available for special groups, such as EOPS and DSPS, Athletes, International Students, and High School Students.

D. ATB and ATB-ESL are available to Financial Aid applicants.

E. Math Competency tests are given once in Fall and Spring semesters to students to fulfill the graduation math requirement.

F. All other groups are encouraged to bring their testing needs to the attention of the Assessment center.

G. The Assessment Center is open year-round to administer the orientation online or by PowerPoint slide show.

11. Computerized information services, such as the ACT, APMS, District MIS and IT on campus, and local reports are evaluated for their use to implement or support assessment services. (Component Standard #13)

12. Work in conjunction with the CCC Chancellor’s Office, the Los Angeles Community College District, the District Academic Senate, the CCC Assessment Association, and other District Matriculation departments in the adoption, development and implementation of a common state and district-wide placement test. A common placement test would allow students to use their placement results at any community college state-wide.
3.2 GOALS FOR THE ASSESSMENT COMPONENT:

A. Test all incoming non-exempt students for appropriate course placement, by appointment and on a walk-in basis. Timeframe: Ongoing. Person responsible: Assessment Staff.

B. Ensure proper placement, thus increasing chances for academic success in a timely manner. Timeframe: Ongoing. Persons responsible: Assessment Staff, Math and English Faculty, Matriculation Coordinator.

C. Refine process for early testing for high school students, athletes, nurses, international students, and other special populations. Timeframe: Ongoing. Person responsible: Assessment Staff.

D. Involve English & Math Faculty in assessment activities by providing Staff Development workshops for Flex credit. Timeframe: Ongoing. Person responsible: Assessment Staff, Matriculation Coordinator, and Math & English Faculty.

E. Ensure division chairs and program managers have current information relating to the Assessment Center and its relationship to Matriculation. Timeframe: Ongoing. Person responsible: Assessment Staff and Matriculation Coordinator.

F. The SARS system has been used since its implementation in the Fall of 2005 to schedule for all tests offered by the Assessment Center.

G. ACT-COMPASS on-line was successfully implemented Spring 2008.

H. The Assessment Center in the new Student Services and Administration building has a computer testing lab with 40 computers, it also has a small room with 2 computers to accommodate students with special needs or circumstances.

I. Ensure the Online Orientation is updated with Matriculation information and make sure it is up and running to provide student’s quiz results.

J. Ensure the PowerPoint slide show is updated with Matriculation information to give the paper quiz to students.

K. Continue participation on the discussions to adopt, develop, and implement a common district-wide placement test that will be useful for students and financially beneficial to the District and individual colleges.

4.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE COUNSELING/ADVISEMENT COMPONENT:

1. When probationary students come in for their counseling appointments, their individual circumstances are discussed with the counselor. Present and future coursework is discussed. Referrals to support services or curriculum offerings are made if needed. Also, the consequences of remaining on probation are discussed. (Component Standard #1, 3)

2. During counseling sessions, students’ needs are assessed by a counselor. Information is provided as to appropriate curriculum offerings and services available on campus. A list of services appears on the Student Educational Plan. Counselors may walk a student over to a particular service area, telephone the service area to arrange an appointment if needed, or refer the student directly to the service area by using the campus map. Students attending orientation are shown a list of campus services during orientation. Students watch a PowerPoint slide show. At the end of the orientation, students are required to complete a quiz to obtain the assessment results. Ways of avoiding probation and dismissal are covered in the orientation. Students may also view the Orientation and take the quiz online. The system provides printable results right after the completion of the quiz. (Component Standard #1, 7, 8)

3. Counselors are available during registration on a drop-in basis to assist students with their selection of courses. Graduation and general education patterns are available in racks in the lobby area adjacent to the Information Desk, in the College Catalog, schedule of classes, and with the counselors. Also, transfer preparation sheets for the various majors, and vocational programs brochures are available at the Information Desk and in the lobby. The campus is moving towards a paperless environment, and students are directed by counselors to articulation websites for major preparation. (Component Standard #2, 7)

4. Counselors advise students regarding course selection based on the students’ specific abilities, characteristics, majors, degree objectives, assessment recommendations, prerequisites, and the availability of classes. Counselor notes are accessed through the SARS system. SEPs are input in a database and filed in counseling. (Component Standard #2, 7, 9)

5. Students receive a copy of their SEP when it is completed. Each time a student has a counseling appointment; the counselor notes and SEPs are accessed. SEPs are updated when the student’s plans change or when they become out-of-date. These return counseling appointments provide the student with an opportunity to discuss the results of any referrals made to other services on campus, class progress, interests, course selection, and graduation/transfer plans. Hard copies of counseling notes, previously filed in Admissions, are now kept in the counseling area. Counselor notes are entered on the SARS system. The Degree Works Audit System will go live in 2009-2010, enabling the creation of electronic SEPs. (Component Standard #2, 8, 9, 10)

6. Students who have been on probation for three consecutive semesters are subject to dismissal. A student may petition for readmission to the college and complete a dismissal contract if he or she would like to continue to enroll. During a counseling appointment, a contract is completed which addresses the student’s goals, problems, and a prescription for alleviating the problem, the conditions under which the student will be able to continue enrollment, and a time line for meeting those conditions. After the dismissal contract is completed and the petition for readmission is submitted, the student obtains clearance to register from the Counseling Chairperson. (Component Standard #3)

7. Counseling is available to all students on a year-round basis, both days and evenings. Students can schedule counseling appointments in person, or by telephoning the secretary at the Information Desk. The SARS system allows staff to electronically schedule counseling appointments. E-SARS, the on-line scheduling system, has further broadened students’ abilities to schedule counseling appointments via the Internet. Students are encouraged to see counselors by several means, such as counseling appointments, drop-in counseling, class presentations, referrals from faculty (including Early Alert), and counselors teaching Personal Development classes, and the referrals to counseling made in orientation and throughout the schedule of classes. Students must see a counselor to clear prerequisites. (Component Standard #3, 4, 5, 6)

8. Probation and dismissal status reports are available in late February/early March (based on Fall performance), and again in July (based on Spring performance). Letters are sent to the students subject to dismissal, asking them to schedule an appointment with a counselor to develop a dismissal contract and petition for readmission. The definitions of probation and dismissal can be found in the college catalog, which is provided at the Orientation. The catalog is also posted online at the college website. (Component Standard #3, 7)

9. During the four to five-week registration periods for the Fall and Spring semesters, counseling appointments are available for students subject to dismissal who have holds on their registration. They must see a counselor prior to registration. Dismissal status from semester to semester is monitored by the Counseling Chairperson. Students who wish to appeal disqualification from Financial Aid, must schedule an appointment with a counselor for an SEP. (Component Standard #3, 7)

10. Students who are undecided about their educational goals are encouraged and invited to participate in career counseling activities. Counselors indicate the referrals on the SEP. The Career Center is described in the orientation and online as a link from Counseling and the Transfer Center. Career planning classes are offered most semesters. Career counseling appointments are available year-round. (Component Standard #4)

11. The career counselor visit classes (Real Estate and Personal Development) during the semester and leads the classes in career activities that 1) encourage students to visit the Career Center, and 2) help students in their exploration of careers and college majors. (Component Standard #5)
4.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE COUNSELING/ADVISEMENT COMPONENT:

12. Matriculation funding enabled counseling to hire a .6 Limited Counselor from Spring '08-June '09. In addition to general counseling duties, this counselor visit the basic skills classes to discuss grade point averages, probation, student services, etc. Students in basic skills classes are encouraged to make counseling appointments. Unfortunately, this needed counseling function was canceled in July 2009, due to budgetary constraints. (Component Standard #5)

13. Counselors develop SEPs with all of the college’s athletes. All athletes need to have an SEP to play their sport. Also, counselors are invited to P.E major classes and present requirements for transfer, general education, AA and AS degree, etc. All athletes are required to complete mid-term grade reports. Coaches track the grade reports. (Component Standard #7, 9, 10)

14. The development of the Student Education Plan (SEP) is available to all students. SEPs are developed with students during appointments. (Component Standard #8, 9)

15. The LACC District has provided Student Services computer screens to record the SEPs and counselor/student contacts. The SEP data appears on the Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC) System. The Matriculation Coordinator, with the other counselors and coordinators make recommendations to Information Technology to improve the screens when needed. Each counseling appointment and SEP is electronically entered on the DEC S255 screen. (Component Standard #9)

16. The Catalog and the schedule of classes inform students of their right to challenge (on specific grounds) a pre- or corequisite or limitation on enrollment; their responsibility for showing that grounds exist for the challenge; and their right to file a complaint of unlawful discrimination. The Catalog also informs students of the procedure for filing a complaint alleging unlawful discrimination in the implementation of matriculation practices, including alleged violation of process for developing a student educational plan. The Vice President of Student Services Office provides students with written District procedures for: challenging matriculation regulatory provisions; district investigation and attempted resolution of complaints; and methods by which the district maintains such complaints. (Component Standards #11, 12, 13)

17. We offer bilingual counseling and advising for students, and we have a multi-ethnic staff of counselors. Counselors have attended and are encouraged to attend conferences and workshops dealing with cross-cultural/multi-cultural issues. Although not all ethnic and language minority students are eligible for financial aid, the Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS) does offer students the same, modified matriculation services. EOPS students may submit applications via the EOPS Office and students may complete their counseling and follow-up within that office.
4.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE COUNSELING/ADVICEMENT COMPONENT:

EOPS students are also referred to many other services on campus as needed. The EOPS counselors attend the Counseling Division Meetings with all of the counselors. (Component Standard #14)

18. Students with disabilities are referred to the Special Programs and Services (DSPS) Office for modified Matriculation services. DSPS provides academic, career counseling, and follow-up services. The DSPS certificated staff works closely with college faculty and community and state agencies in the provision of services for this population. SEPs are designed in response to the functional limitations of the students. Each DSPS service contact is electronically entered on DEC S255, S275 and S258 screens. (Component Standard #14, 18)

19. The Los Angeles Community College District has adopted district governing board policies regarding exemption criteria.

- Student is taking P.E., recreational or personal growth classes only and has no intention of pursuing a certificate or degree.
- Student is taking one or two classes (not English or math) to renew a license and has no intention of pursuing a certificate or degree.
- Student is concurrently enrolled at another institution and is taking one or two classes to transfer back to their home institution.

This component is waived for students who have completed an associate or higher degree. Exempted students are made aware that they may choose whether or not to participate in this component at the time of the application. (Component Standard #15, 16, 17)

20. Computerized information services, such as the state MIS reports, district reports, and local reports are evaluated for their use to implement or support counseling/advising activities. (Component Standard #18)

5.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE STUDENT FOLLOW-UP COMPONENT:

1. Students have access to their grades, academic status, and their semester grade point average via the LACCD website. Students who want a printed summary of their semester grades may request an unofficial transcript at the Admissions and Records Office. (Component Standard #1)

2. Each semester, data processing furnishes the Counseling Office with mailing labels and a list of all students on progress probation, academic probation, academic disqualification, and progress disqualification. These students are sent letters offering support, and advising them to see a counselor. Students meet with counselors and get assistance with course and program selection, referral to specialized services such as tutoring, financial aid, Special Programs (DSPS), etc. Disqualified students may be readmitted if they meet with a counselor, develop plans for remediation of their problems, fill out a readmission petition and dismissal contract, and if they have not done so already, develop a Student Educational Plan with the counselor. For students on probation, our expansion of the probation, dismissal, and GPA workshops being held in the Basic Skills classes will spread the word about the value of making academic progress. (Component Standard #1, 2, 3)

3. The Matriculation Coordinator obtained Basic Skills funds to hire a .4 counselor and hourly counselors to work with students who placed in basic skills English and math courses for the fall 2009 semester. The Basic Skills project served a total of 209 students. The students were assessed in English and math and took the Orientation at the Senior Orientation Days and Open House during late Spring and Summer 2009. Counselors met with the students to develop a Student Education Plan (SEP) for the fall 2009 semester. Six Peer Advisors were hired to develop a schedule of classes for each student. The Peer Advisors also gave the students an orientation of the College website and showed them how to register for their classes. During the first two weeks of the fall 2009 semester, the Peer Advisors were available to guide the Basic Skills students to their classes and campus resources such as the bookstore, library, tutoring services, etc. The Matriculation Coordinator requested a report from the Dean of Research to verify that the students were actually enrolled in the appropriate English and math courses. The Matriculation Coordinator will follow up at the end of the fall semester by reviewing the student success rate. (Component Standard #1, 2, 3, 4, 5)

4. The Early Alert System provides post-enrollment evaluation of all students’ academic progress.

d) Feedback to the instructors is given in the Matriculation Newsletter. (Component Standard #1, 2, 3)

To move into paperless rosters, the LACCD will be implementing the online Early Alert Program in the Spring 2010 semester. It is expected that the online Early Alert Program will be accepted by the faculty because it is user friendly and it can be used throughout the year. (Component Standard # 1, 2, 3, 5)

5. Disabled students who are on progress or academic probation meet with Special Programs and Services counselors. Disabled students on progress or academic probation who do not participate in DSPS are also sent a letter and are asked to meet with counselors. Disabled students who do not participate in DSPS can get needed advisement through the regular counseling office. DSPS also works closely with students needing additional monitoring/evaluative documentation for clients of state or community agencies. Special DSPS personnel review the functional limitations of each disabled student and modify the service levels as appropriate. The progress of disabled students (measured by course completion and final grades) is evaluated at the end of every semester prior to the next semester’s registration. (Component Standard #1, 2, 3, 4)

6. All EOPS students are required to have at least three counseling contacts each semester. Students’ progress is monitored and necessary referrals for services are made. EOPS students turn in midterm progress reports, and appropriate referrals and/or counseling is provided. (Component Standard #1, 2, 3, 4)

Students can view the schedule of workshops offered by the Student Services Division by accessing the Student Services homepage. The schedule was created by the Student Services Workshop committee to provide students with support services information. The goal of the committee is to promote campus services/workshops which will help students gain the necessary knowledge and tools to become master students.

Through the Online Orientation and in the new student packets, students are informed of seminars, English/speech, reading or math laboratories, Personal Development courses and counseling. (Component Standard #3, 4, 5)

7.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE RESEARCH AND EVALUATION COMPONENT:

1. In order to evaluate the efficiency of matriculation services, and remedial programs and services, the college has established an Office of Institutional Research supervised by the Associate Dean of Research and Planning.

   In order to conduct matriculation research, data files have been developed and maintained. Over 50 variables are available, including ethnicity, gender, age, primary language, disability, goals, assessment scores, placements, and course grades. Research Staff regularly produces summary reports. In addition, student information is available to the Office of Institutional Research using direct computer access. (Component Standard #1)

2. The college is committed to test instruments that have been approved by the CCC Chancellor. The Department Chairs and Staff review the use of all tests to ensure that they are used appropriately, including intended use and proper administration. Currently, all assessment instruments have approval from the State for local use.

   The assessment instruments are periodically evaluated to ensure that they minimize or eliminate cultural and linguistic bias. Test results and placement data are maintained in a computer database which is matched with course enrollment data and grades to carry out research on predictive validity and disproportionate impact. (Component Standard #2)

3. As part of the evaluation of the assessment instruments, the assessment database files are used to monitor disproportionate impact. Statistical tests are performed to analyze assessment results by ethnicity, gender, age, and disability. In the event of evidence of disproportionate impact, a plan will be developed to seek correction of the problem by the matriculation coordinator and division chair. Reevaluation after the plan takes effect will be conducted in a timely manner. (Component Standard #3)

4. To analyze the degree of matriculation’s impact on courses and facilities, reports are generated by individual course levels in English, math, and ESL with the number of placements, available seats, and course enrollments. Program impact is measured by comparing matriculation program participants in such areas as counseling, tutoring, and learning assistance (particularly using student surveys), with students not participating in these services as well as student records prior to participation. (Component Standard #4)

5. In order to assess effectiveness of matriculation on students’ goals, student records (including student feedback) are analyzed to determine changes in student goals over time in relation to matriculation component completion. (Component Standard #5)

6. Statistical analysis using longitudinal archival study, follow-up questionnaires, and selected interviews are conducted to determine the impact of matriculation on student outcomes, persistence, skill improvement, grades, and goal attainment. (Component Standard #6)
7.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE RESEARCH AND EVALUATION COMPONENT:

7. The college conducts analyses of the degree to which matriculation assists district efforts to assess educational needs within matriculation components and funding through evaluations, including the Counseling Department and computerized database means. (Component Standard #7)

8. The college conducts analyses of course placement recommendations in English, math and ESL and compares available seats and course enrollment. (Component Standard #8)

9. The college maintains records to determine the number of student referrals to support services and programs that are made in the matriculation process. Referrals are also made through Early Alert and records are maintained on those referrals. Records track the degree to which matriculation provides students the specialized support services and programs to which they are referred. (Component Standard #9)

10. The student enrollment database is used to determine ethnicity, gender, and age of credit students. Statistical records are kept and compared on a regular basis. (Component Standard #10)

11. Student placement data is maintained and analyzed to determine the placement in pre-collegiate, associate degree-applicable, and transfer courses in reading, writing, computation, or ESL by ethnicity, gender, age, and disability. (Component Standard #11)

12. Student enrollment data is maintained and analyzed to determine the proportion of students of ethnic, gender, age, and disability groups who enter and complete pre-collegiate basic skills courses. (Component Standard #12)

13. Throughout the LACCD, student enrollment data is maintained and analyzed to determine the proportion of students of ethnic, gender, age, and disability groups who complete pre-collegiate basic skills courses and who subsequently enter and complete associate degree applicable courses. (Component Standard #13)

14. The Counseling Chair keeps records of the students exempted by category and grounds for exemption. These records are evaluated on a regular basis. (Component Standard #14)

15. Information on students filing complaints is reported to the Vice President of Student Services, who records the number of complaints and the basis of those complaints. (Component Standard #15)

16. Records are kept on particular matriculation services received by each non-exempt student. Documentation is evaluated on a regular basis. (Component Standard #16)
7.1 ACTIVITIES FOR THE RESEARCH AND EVALUATION COMPONENT:

17. Management Information System (MIS) and District information services (DEC) are utilized to implement and support research and evaluation activities. Local computer information access has been developed to provide additional and more accessible information. Information available only at the local campus is inputted and analyzed by the college Research Staff. (Component Standard #17)
